The Penn National Men's Luncheon is offered on the first or second Tuesday of each month from September through May. It is held at different venues that can provide adequate seating for a crowd, excellent food, and a cash bar. All men living in Penn National, and their guests, are invited.

The cost of the luncheon is routinely $30 per person. If we want to offer an expensive entrée choice, the cost may be raised to $35. Payment (cash only) is collected at the door on the luncheon date. There is also usually a 50/50 tickets drawing, which raises money for various good purposes.

We have a speaker, usually someone from nearby, who talks for 20 minutes or so on an interesting topic.

Reservations are required, and are accepted until a week before the luncheon. Late registrations are not encouraged, but may be accepted. One registers by sending an email to menslunch@pnca.info, with name(s) and selected meal choice(s); or by calling either Bernie Goldberg (717-401-0084) or Bob Cronin (717-352-8539). A reservation may be cancelled until three days before the luncheon; after that, except for an emergency, payment is expected.
